Quarterly Review Report on Sustainable Finance of Banks & Finance Companies

January-March, 2025

Executive Summary

The concern for environmental sustainability and inclusive growth has gained widespread recognition, elevating the importance of corporate social responsibility (CSR) and inclusive finance. In an emerging economy like Bangladesh, environmental management should be a key focus area for the business community, particularly the banking industry, which serves as a major intermediary. Addressing the environmental and social risks associated with financing activities is essential for overall credit rating and credit approval. Following disbursement, stricter monitoring is necessary. Additionally, the Bangladesh Bank has incorporated socially responsible initiatives alongside the core activities of banks and financial institutions, driving towards sustainable finance strategies.

Green and sustainable interventions and frameworks are essential for making future development more sustainable. Developing sustainable frameworks aligns with the broader sustainable development agenda of a country like Bangladesh. Banks and finance companies play a unique role in the economic system as they can influence production, business, and other economic activities through their financing, and thus also have an impact on environmental risk management and sustainable growth. These institutions have the potential to significantly accelerate the movement towards a cleaner world. For instance, they can implement 'go-green' policies within their own operations and encourage client firms to adopt clean technologies. In the long run, this strategy is anticipated to benefit firms by reducing costs and facilitating access to new markets. To further their interests, all financial institutions should monitor the carbon footprint of their clients or projects to ensure overall sustainability.

For the first time, Bangladesh Bank (BB) has defined 'Sustainable Finance' for Banks & FCs. This report provides information on all policy initiatives and operational approaches related to sustainable finance undertaken by BB, as well as the sustainable finance activities of Banks & Finance Companies from January 1 to March 31, 2025. It also includes green finance/investment by 61 scheduled banks and 34 finance companies under the refinance scheme.

1. Introduction

Sustainability has become a key consideration in the financial sector. Due to its geographic location, Bangladesh is highly vulnerable to climate change. Recognizing that the financial sector can play a crucial role in accelerating the adoption of environmentally friendly practices in the real economy, Bangladesh Bank (BB) has become a pioneer in green banking initiatives. Since 2011, BB has been proactively guiding banks and Finance Companies in this regard. In this context, BB's Sustainable Finance initiatives can be broadly categorized into several aspects: policy initiatives, monitoring of Sustainable Finance activities by banks and finance companies, refinance support from BB for various green products and sectors, and BB's own environmental management initiatives. The introduction of the Sustainable Finance Policy has provided banks and finance companies with an opportunity to contribute to inclusive sustainable green growth. This includes green finance, sustainable agriculture, sustainable CMSME (small and medium-sized enterprises), socially responsible financing, and other activities linked to sustainability. Sustainable Finance refers to business conducted in such areas and in such a manner that contributes to the reduction of both external carbon emissions and the internal carbon footprint.

The banking sector plays a key role in financing industrial projects such as steel, paper, cement, chemicals, fertilizers, power, and textiles, which contribute significantly to carbon emissions. Therefore, the banking sector can act as an intermediary between economic and social development and environmental protection, by promoting environmentally sustainable and socially responsible investment.

The Quarterly Review Report on Sustainable Finance has been introduced to cover not only green banking activities but also all components under the Sustainable Finance Taxonomy. This report reflects an assessment of the efforts made by banks and finance companies in addressing People, Planet, and Profit.
