Overview of Agricultural and Rural Financing

The importance of agricultural sector is very crucial considering its role in employment generation in the rural areas and poverty alleviation. Bangladesh Bank (BB) has taken a number of initiatives to increase flow of funds in rural areas through agricultural credit programme and SME loans under its intensive financial inclusion strategies. BB has instructed all private and foreign banks to disburse at least 2 percent of their total loan and advance as agricultural credit. Agricultural diversification by disbursing more resources in both crop and non-crop sectors and crop intensification by adding new varieties is essential in order to enhance agricultural growth. BB also pursues inclusive monetary policy for serving unbanked people to achieve sustainable economic growth. The highlights of the agricultural and rural financing report are:

- In FY15 annual agricultural credit disbursement target was fixed at Tk. 15,550.00 crore which was Tk. 955.00 crore or 6.54 percent higher than previous year’s credit disbursement target of Tk. 14,595.00 crore.
- In May 2015, actual agricultural credit disbursement by all scheduled banks under annual agricultural credit programme stood at Tk. 1,335.06 crore. During July-May of FY15 total agricultural credit disbursement stood at Tk. 13,695.97 crore. The target attainment up to May 2015 was 88.08 percent.

All scheduled banks operating in Bangladesh and the BRDB had been advised to instruct their concerned sections to follow and implement the policy and programme and to inform the ACFID about branch-wise and Micro-finance based (where applicable) credit target under the total targeted programme. (Ref: ACFID Circular No. 01; 21 July 2014)
- It had been decided to further extend credits on concessional rates to the flood affected farmers of 21 districts with a view to keeping production of crops including aman, fisheries, winter crops and import substitute crops (pulses, oilseeds, spices, maize) uninterrupted. BB advised all the scheduled banks to monitor that the affected farmers get credits timely according to their demand without harassments. (Ref: ACFID Circular No. 02; 11 September 2014)

- In addition to existing loan facilities, Bangladesh Bank decided to form a revolving fund of Tk. 200.00 crore under the refinance scheme on milk production and artificial insemination sector. Duration of this revolving scheme will be 5 years and interest rate at the farmer's level will be maximum 10 percent. (Ref: ACFID Circular No. 02; 02 June 2015)

Conclusion

To promote inclusive economic growth, credit to all sectors in agriculture is being prioritized according to policy directions of Bangladesh Bank. Due to more concentration in credit disbursement, agriculture sector has experienced a steady rise in crop production over the year. Non-crop sectors like fisheries and livestock & poultry firm are also gaining momentum. However, during July-May, 2015 it is observed that agricultural credit disbursement in some subsectors like irrigation equipment, poverty alleviation, agri-equipment and grain storage & marketing was lower than the same period of the previous year. Therefore, to promote the stakeholders of the rural areas aiming to boost up crop production, there is a scope to speed up credit disbursement and provide refinance facility at a low interest rate in these sectors. Given limited cultivable land and increasing food demand, agricultural production must be increased by raising productivity through disbursing more credit in both crop and non-crop sectors which is also necessary to enhance sustainable growth of this sector.
